

LawBase/Worldox Integration

LawBase and Worldox work together to keep both your cases and documents managed.

LawBase makes it easy to find the documents you need. From within a LawBase case file, click the Worldox button to initiate a Worldox search for documents that pertain to that case.

And LawBase works with Worldox to keep your client/matter numbers in sync. Whenever a new file is added to LawBase, it is automatically added to Worldox.

These organizations already enjoy the benefits of LawBase with Worldox:

ABOUT LAWBASE™

LawBase Case Management is the flagship program of Synaptec Software, Inc. It has been serving legal professionals since 1981.

Our corporate philosophy has always been to create software that "thinks the way you do." We achieve this by giving you the ability to adapt LawBase to your own needs and determine what information is important to track for your office. While our competitors discuss customization, none offer the level of flexibility that is available in LawBase. This means your office can have custom software at off-the-shelf prices.

LawBase has always been developed according to industry standards, historically giving users a choice of operating systems and hardware platforms. The market has since validated that foresight. Synaptec continues to maintain hardware independence, allowing LawBase to be installed in a client-server network, a thin-client environment or accessed via a browser. We also support a choice of networks that best meet your needs.

The past decades have seen software for the legal industry evolve from simple transaction and record-keeping to fully integrated law office management systems. Software is now a vital source of information, allowing law firms, corporate legal departments and governmental agencies to manage a file's progress, maintain client files within various areas of law, keep complete calendars and schedules, maintain file room management, and perform large repetitive tasks with just a few keystrokes — and all of this in a fraction of the time it used to take, making your office more efficient and profitable.

We at Synaptec look forward to the opportunity to earn your business.
